We have seven students and four review periods of 1 ½ hours. I'd like to have everyone's work on the wall together, so when you pin up, do so accordingly.

In the first two sessions – we are going to have all students present, with a discussion of the collective work. Then in the afternoon we will have individual reviews. The day will be structured as follows:

9:00 – 10:30am

9:00 – brief intro by MAT-M

9:15 – reviews begin:

Brice, Gilbert, Tyler and Brandon will present each for 10 minutes. Then we will talk about the four projects as a group (although individual reviewers may focus in on whichever they care to). Do not go over your time limit – it is your responsibility to think ahead about what you will say and have it condensed into a 10 minute presentation.

10:30am - Noon

10:30 am – brief intro by MAT-M

10:40am – reviews begin:

Jason, Jose Luis and Chad will present each for 10 minutes. Then we will talk about the three projects as a group (although individual reviewers may focus in on whichever they care to). Do not go over your time limit – it is your responsibility to think ahead about what you will say and have it condensed into a 10 minute presentation.

Lunch Break – 12 – 12:55pm.

Be back in Review by 12:55pm

1:00pm – 2:30pm and 2:30pm – 4:00pm

Each student will have an individual review with 10 minutes to present and 10 – 15 minutes of reviewer comment. This will give you an opportunity to rethink your presentation in response to morning reviewer comments. The order will be as follows:

Brice (1:00 – 1:20), Gilbert (1:20 – 1:40), Brandon (1:40 – 2:00), Tyler (2:00 – 2:20), Wrap up comments til 2:30pm, Chad (2:35 – 2:55), Jose Luis (2:55 – 3:15), Jason (3:15 – 3:35). Wrap up comments til 3:50. Wrap up in studio by 4 – 4:15pm.

The reason the order in groupings is the same is because we have a guest reviewer that will repeat in the afternoon and I want this reviewer to view all seven projects.
